DECISIONS

*For those who live according to the flesh set their minds on the things of the flesh, but those who live according to the Spirit set their minds on the things of the Spirit.
For to set the mind on the flesh is death,*

but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace.* - Romans 8:5-6

Each day of life is filled with decisions. Most are so small that they are hardly even recognized as decisions. Others are monumental, gut-wrenching and drastically change the course of life. Should I change jobs? What field of study will I choose? Who will I marry? Should I be a Christian? Decisions like these set us on a unique path that affects everything. A third category of decision, however, is the most interesting, decisions that seem routine, but end up changing everything.

The third category is habits, those things we do almost unknowingly because we have made the decision so many times that it has become involuntary. Our habits powerfully set the direction of life by tiny degrees every day. The cumulative effect of these continuous tiny changes outweighs even the monumental decisions of life.

If it is our habit to participate in Sunday school every week without fail, we will reap many good things, such as: knowledge of the Word, encouragement, Godly friends and deeper faith. These benefits positively affect all the other decisions we make during the week, compounding the decision to put God first.

Tragically, the opposite is also true. Sticking with the Sunday school example, the habit of staying up late Saturday night and skipping Sunday school leads to a compounding of harmful effects, such as: missing all the benefits listed above, guilt over divided loyalty, and a diluted spiritual focus that leads to vulnerability to temptation. The cumulative outcome of this choice made over and over is a much weaker focus on Christ.

The verse above spells it out clearly, “For to set the mind on the flesh is death, but to set the mind on the Spirit is life and peace.” Decisions are made with the mind. Make decisions that will bless your spirit and you will see your life being transformed day by day.

From Neville's Desk...

LIVING THE OVERFLOW

After a month of ice, I could finally turn on my pond's pumps. But there was still a massive chunk of ice in my 20 Gallon filter. So, the question was, would the filtered water flow via the return pipe to the pond or would it wastefully spill out onto the deck? Today, it worked out! Just before overflowing, the gravity system kicked into high gear.

But there is a time when overflowing is a good idea.

Philippians 1:9–11 (ESV) — 9 And it is my prayer that your love may abound more and more, with knowledge and all discernment, 10 so that you may approve what is excellent, and so be pure and blameless for the day of Christ, 11 filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ, to the glory and praise of God.

Paul is praying for an overflow of love that originates from knowledge and all discernment. When this happens, we can approve what is excellent.

Several times a day, I find myself being attacked by the fiery darts of Satan. During these times I am called to approve or reject the thoughts before they can morph into action. My action (that which overflows into the lives of others) is either love or anger. If it is love that overflows I am assured a life that is pure and blameless on the Day of the Lord.

Friend, what is overflowing from your heart today – love or anger?

WISDOM IS SUPREME

BRAD HERALD

Proverbs 4:4-5 (NIV) ...<sup>4</sup>Take hold of my words with all your heart; keep my commands, and you will live. <sup>5</sup>Get wisdom, get understanding, do not forget my words or turn away from them.

One of the greatest and most difficult responsibilities of parents is to encourage their children to become wise, or as Laura and I call it, “make good decisions”. Here Solomon tells how his father encouraged him to seek wisdom and understanding. This encouragement may have prompted Solomon to ask God for a discerning heart above all else.

Ultimately, all wisdom comes from God of course, and parents can only urge our children to turn to Him, but if you want wisdom you must decide to go after it by learning from God's Word. This is not a once-in-a-lifetime step, but a daily process of choosing the path towards righteousness that leads to wisdom. Nothing else is more important or more valuable.
