I read the article below earlier this week and it caused me to pause and think about worship. Do we actively think about our time spent in worship or do we come in and act routinely, often taking this time for granted?

Billy, for the Elders

Enhancing Our Time Together in Worship and Bible Study

- When we come together, let's greet one another enthusiastically, knowing our greeting to our brothers or sisters may be the bright spot of their day.
- When we come together, let's practice developing relationships with different people, realizing that some people like to talk (a lot) and others do not (a lot).
- When we come together, let's be prompt, knowing that habitual tardiness is a habit that can be discouraging and disruptive to others.
- When we come together, let's be aware that we don't have to sit in the same place every time for every service, especially if a visitor is sitting in "our" seat.
- When we come together, let's focus on the true audience – God.
- When we come together, let's think of actions that might help someone later – like leaving our contribution check unfolded so that it won't have to be unfolded by those counting our contribution later. (You can maintain your privacy by placing it face-down in the basket.)
- When we come together, let's look at new songs as new avenues to praise God and teach and admonish one another.
- When we come together, let's think of old songs as old pathways to God and think of fresh ways to appreciate and concentrate on them.
- When we come together, let's actively, yet privately pursue thought in public prayers –thinking of specific blessings God has given us, of specific people we are concerned about, etc.
- When we come together, let's find at least one person per week that we can commend (diligent parents, enthusiastic singer, etc.)
- When we come together, let's bring a copy of God's Word to study (whether it is paperback, leather-bound, or electronically-bound).
- When we come together, let's be looking for different doors through which to exit, and different people to acknowledge as we exit.

~ Lance Cordle, Calvert City, KY

*Let us not forsake the gathering of ourselves together, as is customary for some. Instead, let us exhort one another, and so the more as you see the day approaching. Hebrews 10:25

From Neville's Desk...

FREED FROM MY SHAME!

She had been bearing her shame for a long time. I imagine she had managed to hide this from even those closest to her. But, out of necessity, her “sworn to secret” Doctors knew. And they had used this knowledge to extract much money out of her – probably promising to heal but instead delivering hopelessness.

Mark 5:25–29 (ESV) — 25 And there was a woman who had had a discharge of blood for twelve years, 26 and who had suffered much under many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was no better but rather grew worse.

Today, if you suffer from a medically unexplained illness it is called “heartsink”. The associated emotions are blame, shame, and hopelessness.

After 12 years of trying out the world’s physician provided pills and procedures, she reaches out and touches Jesus Christ.

Mark 5:27 She had heard the reports about Jesus and came up behind him in the crowd and touched his garment. 28 For she said, “If I touch even his garments, I will be made well.”

Friend, is your heart hurting? It’s time for your peace to return!

Mark 5:29 And immediately the flow of blood dried up, and she felt in her body that she was healed of her disease.

CHANGES

by Steve Proctor

It happens. What is normal is suddenly, or expectedly, not normal. We have things set up a certain way. It’s a way we know and may be comfortable with. Of course we could absolutely hate the way things are too.

No matter the situation there is one thing you can count on when it comes to things here on Earth. At some point, it will change.

Kids grow up. Cars wear out. Job markets dip. Political parties and agendas are voted in or out. The list goes on and on.

Take comfort though. As we go through changes we have a foundation and anchor that does not. Have faith that our God provides the important things and has never failed to hold us up in the middle of all the changes we face.

He is the same God who was, who is, and who will be. Abide in him and he will abide with us.

“Oh thou who changes not, abide with me”. When we sing that song we echo scripture that assures is that among all change there is a constant. A God that know us and takes care for us.

Don’t fear change. Trust in the one who doesn’t.

LADS TO LEADERS, APRIL 19TH-21ST MENTOR OPPORTUNITIES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Are you skilled in art (drawing/sketching or painting) or public speaking? Would you like to help our young people create their banner for the upcoming Lads to Leaders weekend? Could you listen to some young people practice reading a couple of minutes of verses out loud to you?

We are looking for adult mentors in each of these areas to work with our young people for the next 7 weeks as they prepare for the Lads to Leaders Convention. You would meet with participants at least a couple of times outside of service times between now and the convention weekend (April 19-21st). You would be helping them pick verses or topics/ideas for their speech or art. With the areas of speech and oral bible reading, you would also be helping them practice and giving them the chance to do so in front of someone besides their family.

This is a great opportunity to encourage and uplift some of our youngest members. If you are interested in being a mentor, please let Cori Fuller know by Wednesday, February 27th.

LADS 2 LEADERS SONGS OF PRAISE

If you are a young woman who is signed up for songs of Praise at Lads to Leaders, please plan to attend a practice session on Sunday, March 3rd at 5pm.

LADIES FAITH DEVOTIONAL

“THE PATH WE CHOOSE”

by Nancy Carnes

If you have ever been somewhere hiking you know that the paths are marked by either a lot of travel or some even have signs pointing the way. The Bible does the same. It gives us the direction and shows us which path we need to take for choosing the right path in life.

If we come to a crossroad, turn and wander away from this path life can become very difficult and we can lose our way. If we let Satan and the world take us down the wrong path we can find our way back by listening to the Bible's directions to the true path.

So, when we come to this crossroad, will we turn around and walk with the world and follow the path that leads to destruction and eternal torment or will we walk with Jesus and follow the path to salvation and eternal joy?

The choice is yours to make-choose wisely.

Psalms 119:105; Proverbs 2:12-15 & Proverbs 3:5-6
