Why I Attend Wednesday Night Church Services

Neal Pollard has been preaching at Bear Valley church of Christ for 17 years. He will soon begin working at the Lehman Avenue congregation in Bowling Green, KY. He has a blog where he recently included the following reasons for attending church services on Wednesday nights. I could not have said it better myself.

- I need the fellowship of Christian family in the middle of a week spent exposed to the world.
- I draw strength from the teaching of God's Word and the comments others make on the subject being studied.
- Others need my encouragement and influence, and my presence can be so faith-building to them.
- Bible class teachers have taken precious time to prepare and deliver their material.
- I believe God is pleased with my making such a commitment and a sacrifice, though it's so little compared to all that He has done for me.
- It builds my interest in spiritual things.
- I believe it helps contribute to the overall strength and influence of the local church.
- It is an affirmation of the eldership's wisdom to have such classes in the first place, where they seek to help give me spiritual food.
- I live by the philosophy that I make time for what is most important and valuable.
- My family is guided by my leadership and priorities.
- I live in a nation that allows me to freely assemble to build and express my faith, and I do not want to take that for granted.
- I have so many great memories of Wednesdays, and I continue to make them.
- Though I have often arrived tired and frazzled, I have almost always left rejuvenated and rejoicing.
- I want to.

From Neville's Desk...

Bitter Shame & Sorrow

The Christian's journey in this world can be precarious. Initially, we veer away from a Savior who died as a criminal – seeing it only as bitter shame and sorrow. Yet, if we are honest as to the faulty direction, we have cast our lot – then maybe we would acknowledge how lost we are.

It is at that moment we might take one last glance back from the deep mire we have become comfortable with. We might see a Shepherd that has found His lost sheep. We might hear Him gently calling to His Father on our behalf— “Father, forgive them, for they don't know what they do.”

“FACE TO FACE” BY STEVE PROCTOR

II John 14-13 “I had much to write to you, but I would rather not write with pen and ink. I hope to see you soon, and we will talk face to face.”

It's amazing how we can communicate in our modern era. With a few swipes of a finger, on a device I carry in my pocket, I can shoot off a message that will reach the other side of the globe within a few moments. I can send a message of hope, a warning, or encouragement so easily it would make the apostles' heads spin. After all, they were handwriting letters that could take weeks or even months to arrive in the reader's hands.

We depend on these messages in their short format and incredible speed to convey our thoughts, feelings, and even our heart-felt condolences. We've become accustomed to giving and receiving valuable information through a simple and easy path of communication.

I'm with John though on this one. Written, long distance, communication is important and can't be understated as necessary. But I'd rather see you face to face. John really wanted to be in the presence of his brothers and sisters. John wanted more than a text message about their day and how they were doing. He wanted to sit at a table and talk about things, face to face. The same way we long for a day when we don't hear from our Lord through “pen and ink” but talking with him face to face.

Don't misunderstand me; text away and shoot those emails. But remember, “I hope to see you soon, and we will talk face to face.”

But are we ready to fully return from the pigpen we have so passionately invested in (hedonism)? Or are we able to see past the log stuck in our eye (judgementalism)? Or can we let go of our prideful spiritual traditions by which we are trying to earn our way back into heaven (legalism)?

Friend, Jesus became sin so that we might become the righteousness of God (2 Corinthians 5:21 ESV). Therefore, through these words, God is sending an ambassador to us with a message: “We implore you on behalf of Christ, be reconciled to God” (2 Corinthians 5:20 ESV).
