LABOR DAY

Matthew 11:28-30 - Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. [29] Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. [30] For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

Henry David Thoreau wrote, "The mass of men lead lives of quiet desperation." 170 years later, things have probably only gotten worse. We fill our days with busyness. We frantically move from one thing to the next, never pausing to catch our breath, until we are exhausted. At work, we spend our time climbing the ladder. They hold our feet to the fire. We keep paying the price to build our nest egg, waiting for someday when we can retire. Apart from work, we take our children from one activity to another. We move from one event to another, searching for something to make us happy. We are generally over-scheduled and unfulfilled.

Thoreau also wrote, "It is not enough to be busy. So are the ants. The question is: What are we busy about?" We often say, "I don't have time" which almost always means, "this is not a priority." When things are important to us, we find a way. When it's not important, we make an excuse. When we care, it's amazing how much we can get done. It's critical for us, then, to be clear about our priorities; to decide what is really important and prioritize that over what is simply urgent. Unless we are serving the Lord, the rest of our labor is vain. It is only in the Lord that we can find fulfillment and peace.

It's Labor Day. It's time for most of us to take a break from school and work and spend some time relaxing and enjoying the last days of summer. Take some time this weekend, step away from it all, and focus on what it is really important to you.

Daryl, for the elders

BABY DADDY

I had not heard the term “baby daddy” till a few years ago. Oxford defines it as “the father of one or more of a woman's children, especially one who is not her husband or current partner” and “she doesn't feel the pressure to wed her baby daddy” (lexico.com).

As a society, how did we get to this point? Is it the removal of God from schools? Is it our despicably enabling social welfare? Or is it just that life is tough?

I know of one young girl for whom life was tough. Before she knew what happened, she was pregnant. Her mark was part of a childless marriage. And, as vile as this may seem, the wife had orchestrated the whole sick mess. But the bigger the young girl's belly grew the more jealous the wife became. Soon the young girl fled the hostile situation. But, with no way to fend for herself, she ended up in a wilderness by a spring. It was there that God found her and told her to humbly return.

God does not turn His back on us. No matter how bad or vile the pit may be that we end up in. Realizing this Hagar replied:

Genesis 16:13 (ESV) So she called the name of the LORD who spoke to her, “You are a God of seeing,” for she said, “Truly here I have seen him who looks after me.”

Friend, have you lost hope that things would ever get better? Right now, turn to God and notice that He is lovingly looking at you. And then reach out to a member of His Summit Church (Romans 16:16) or join us each Lord's Day to discover His message for you.

The Summit Church of Christ offers counseling. It is free to all who attend the 11 am services.

STRENGTH TO SERVE by Brad Herald

Last week we started our first session of Dave Ramsey's Financial Peace University program. During the instructional video, one of the financial counselors was talking about her own personal experience with money as she meekly expressed, “she was living in her strengths” when she was spending money. This reminded me of one of the verses Dad used to encourage all of the new and existing Deacons to rededicate ourselves to service for the church.

Romans 12:6-8 (NIV) ⁶We have different gifts, according to the grace given to each of us. If your gift is prophesying, then prophesy in accordance with your faith; ⁷if it is serving, then serve; if it is teaching, then teach; ⁸if it is to encourage, then give encouragement; if it is giving, then give generously; if it is to lead, do it diligently; if it is to show mercy, do it cheerfully.

Think about this list of gifts and imagine the kinds of people who would have each gift. It would be difficult for one person to embody all of these gifts. At the same time, realize that your own gifts cannot do the work of the church all alone. Be thankful for people whose gifts are completely different from your own and look for ways to let your strengths balance their weaknesses. Be grateful for others with abilities that make up your own deficiencies, together we can build Christ's church.

God's gifts differ in nature and purpose according to His wisdom and graciousness, not according to our faith. Our role is to be faithful and to seek ways to serve others with what Christ has given us.

Are you living in your strengths?

LADIES FAITH DEVOTIONAL

“WITHOUT EXCUSE”

by Melissa Denham

Being a woman of faith, I try to follow the Biblical examples of human interaction. Of late, I keep thinking about the Good Samaritan in Luke 10:33-37. Christ states very clearly that the Samaritan was the Jewish traveler's neighbor because he saw a human in need and assisted him. What is so striking to me is that Christ doesn't give us ANY excuses for not helping someone in need.

There are no qualifiers that relieve us of doing the right thing for a person in need. Nowhere in God's Word are we told to determine if the people in need are deserving of our help. We aren't told to make sure they aren't thieves, liars or heroin addicts before helping them. In fact, in Matthew 25:34-40, Christ tells us those on His right will inherit the Kingdom prepared for them because when he was hungry you gave him food, thirsty you gave him food and in prison you visited him...going on later to explain doing this to the “least of these”, you did it to him.

While Christ doesn't give us an excuse for not helping, he also doesn't tell us how we must help. I think that is where we must use good judgment. We can take someone to lunch rather than giving them money for food or paying their heat bill directly to the utility company instead of giving the funds to make the payment. Perhaps we put gas directly into the someone's gas tank when they say they need gas to get home. We can also look to each other for ideas of how we can best help those in need in our community. As Christians, we should be ever striving to be light in a dark world.
