HAPPY MEMORIAL DAY

Billy Herald

Monday is a National Holiday. When I was a child we called it Decoration Day, I knew we were going to the Cemetery to decorate the graves of loved ones. Memorial Day is always the last Monday in May. It was a day set aside to honor men and women who died serving the U.S. Military. Got any plans? I am afraid many of us have forgotten the true meaning of this time and are happy to get a paid day off of work and realize it is the unofficial beginning of summer. We take the meaning of the holiday for granted.

Do we also take the privilege of taking the Lord's Supper for granted? Do we see it as another part of our worship? What if we only took it once a year, or once a month? Would you miss it?

The Bible gives us examples of observing the Lord's supper. *And upon the first day of the week, when the Disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them Acts 20:7. We have the example in Matthew 26 of Jesus giving His Disciples the bread and the cup.

This same bread and cup we take every Sunday is a Memorial of Jesus' gift to you and me. It is a celebration with Jesus for His Victory over sin and death and the grave. It is a time of reflection of our faithfulness to the Lord, and to remember our Lord and Savior as He suffered on the cruel cross of Calvary. This Memorial Feast should never be minimized, never be routine, and never taken for granted.

Brothers and Sisters, I am glad to take the Lords Supper every Sunday so I can reflect on what this Memorial means to you and me. So, I say to you this Sunday, this First day of the week, Happy Memorial Day, as we Celebrate the life of our Lord Jesus Christ!

This Do In Remembrance Of Me! 1 Cor. 11:25

ARE YOU A CHILD OF GOD?

Occasionally a spouse has a chance to be a superhero. One year ago, my wife called me and told me that she had a blowout and needed assistance. My first thought was that GEICO could probably get there sooner than I could. But I realized this is my chance to be a superhero. So, I simply said, "I'm on my way." Friend, these opportunities are few and far between.

This week we were given an opportunity to be superheroes. As we witnessed the horror unfolding in Texas, we had the opportunity to either display hearts of war or hearts of peace. We had to choose.

LAMENT

Robert Murphy

When we encounter tragedies in life, we are confronted with the ancient problem of God's goodness and the presence of evil/disaster in the world. Many times, we may just ignore this problem because it makes us uncomfortable. Other times we may choose to trust that it was supposed to happen. Yet, at other times we may grow angry and resentful toward God. How could God let an innocent child die despite praying for that child? God is all-powerful (omnipotent) after all. He allows everything that happens on this earth. I do not have an answer to this problem, and I believe that anyone who says that they do is a liar. However, I do know that we ought to trust God, that he will make everything right and will execute perfect justice, even if we may not experience it in our lifetime.

Yet, we still experience pain, anger, and confusion towards God. All these things are perfectly human and righteous (that is, if done in the right way). The Psalms are full of laments and petitions to God, calling into question his justice and faithfulness. One of the most famous is Psalm 22, which begins, "My God, my God, why have you forsaken me? Far from my deliverance are the words of my groaning. O my God, I cry by day, but You do not answer; And by night, but I have no rest" (vv. 1, 2). Does this sound like someone who is stoically accepting the pains of life? This verse actually calls into question why God is not rescuing David or answering his prayers, even blaming God for forsaking him. Through this psalm and many of the other psalms of lament, we see this process of distress resulting in a renewed confidence in God (Contrast Ps 22:1-18 with vv. 19-31). I believe that this is a process we ought to go through in our prayers, both publicly and privately. It helps us to communicate with God even when we are upset with him and gives voice to these very real emotions that all humans experience. Most importantly, they help us keep our faith and renew our confidence in God, that he is both sovereign and good.

Jesus said: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called sons of God" (Mt 5:9, ESV). So, what did you choose? If you chose to lash out and blame, you were displaying a heart of war. But if your words were healing, you were displaying a heart of peace.

Friends, never lose an opportunity to be called by God his child by simply choosing to bring healing instead of division. May God bring peace that transcends understanding to the broken hearts of parents who will never, in this world, be able to wrap their arms around their children.
