TIME FOR AN ANNUAL STRATEGIC REVIEW?

Brad Herald

One of the most important aspects of the financial services I provide to my clients is to go through an annual strategic review. One of the purposes of the review is to evaluate the client's investment goals to make sure their portfolio is at the appropriate risk level for their situation, and to determine if we would recommend any changes to avoid unnecessary risk. Another important objective of the review is to update the client's financial plan to assess if they are on the right track and to check progress on action items from past consultations.

When I speak to the client again, unfortunately, it is very common that no action has been taken from the prior discussion and because of the client's inactivity, they are no more prepared for their financial future than when we spoke the first time. When I ask clients why they did not implement any of the recommended changes or make any progress on our action plan, the most common responses are, "I didn't have time" and, "I didn't know if it was the right time."

Time is a limited resource. Everyone gets the same 24 hours a day, but what differentiates some people from others is how they spend this precious resource.

In Romans 13:11, the apostle Paul states "And do this, understanding the present time. The hour has come for you to wake up from your slumber, because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed."

Paul continues in verse 14 "Rather, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not think about how to gratify the desires of the sinful nature."

Ask yourself, is your faith in a slumber of inactivity where you cannot make progress toward your goal? Is your eternal future taking on unnecessary risk?

If so, you need to be reconciled with Christ by being baptized into Him. To avoid the desires of the sinful nature, you need to clothe yourself with Christ and live each day controlled and guided by the Holy Spirit. Then the words of Christ will be in your mind, the love of Christ will be on your heart, and the power of Christ will be behind your actions.

ARE YOU READY TO GRADUATE?

Every year we see hundreds of Graduation photos. They are filled with the faces of promise. But how do we turn potential into success?

First, immediately start with the end in mind: "O Lord, make me know my end and what is the measure of my days; let me know how fleeting I am" (Psalm 39:4)! Graduation was great but now the real work starts.

Second, keep spiritually fit (1 Timothy 4:7-11). With reverence to God, faithfully train yourself in godliness.

Third, be a godly mentor in all you do (1 Timothy 4:12). So often young graduates become self-absorbed because they allow criticism to get to them. So, Paul gives the solution: 1 Timothy 4:12 (ESV) — Let no one despise you for your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity.

Fourth, continue to be active in public worship (1 Timothy 4:13). Spiritual inactivity leads to dangerous complacency that could steal your eternal reward.

Fifth, throw yourself into the work God is calling you to do (1 Timothy 4:15).

And sixth, keep a close check on your life. At the end of the day, you want to be saved – you and all those who have been following you (1 Timothy 4:16).

Dear Father, help us to live circumspectly so that we may constantly be ready to Graduate into your Glory.

DID SOMEONE SEE JESUS IN ME TODAY?

Teresa Grounds

Did someone see Jesus in me today?

Did my words and my actions point them to His way?

Perhaps a kind word would renew their hope,

Perhaps it's what they needed, to help them cope.

Sometimes mere words don't help us understand,

More can be said with hugs, or the touch of a hand.

Perhaps a smile was all that they needed,

To lighten a burden they carried, unheeded.

Did someone see Jesus in me today?

Did my words and my actions point them to His way?

And what about when someone makes me mad?

Can I honestly say I did not react bad?

Are my words always thoughtful, true, and kind?

For they reveal what's truly in my heart and mind.

When life is tough and things don't go my way,

Will they recognize Jesus is my hope and stay?

Did someone see Jesus in me today?

Did my words and actions point them to His way?

Do they see the joy that Jesus can bring?

Will my life make them eager to make Him their king?

Wherever I go, what I say, what I do,

People are watching, does Jesus shine through?

Do they see Jesus living in me?

Or does "me" shine so brightly that Him they can't see?

Did someone see Jesus in me today?

Did my words and my actions point them to His way?

Carefully consider your life today,

Will you draw them to Jesus, or lead them astray?

Teresa wrote this poem in January 2020, and she passed away in May 2022. She was a dear friend of Neville and Douwene.
