THE BURDEN OF THE BLESSED

Robert Murphy

The first superhero movie I remember watching as a kid was Spiderman (with Toby McGuire). Even at such a young age, the movie left enough of an impression on me so that I remembered the wise words of Uncle Ben, "With great power comes great responsibility." Uncle Ben either was drawing upon his own wise observations of the world or he knew his Bible. Jesus ended his parable of the lazy servant by saying, "Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more." (Luke 12:48; ESV).

This verse terrifies me. It terrifies me because I know how much God has given me and I constantly misuse it. Oftentimes it is because I'm incorrectly thinking that I can do what I want with my time and my money so long as it is not blatantly sinful. I can watch TV, wear nice clothes, eat delicious food at every meal. Yet Jesus' words call me beyond this. God intends for me to enjoy his blessings, but even more so he intends for me to use these gifts properly.

If God gives us time, it is not so that we can waste it on pursuing our passions and desires, it is so we can devote ourselves to him and help others. If God gives us money, it is not so that we can purchase nice things for ourselves or achieve vain goals. God intends for us to share what we have that we do not need. For Paul said, "if we have food and clothing, with these we shall be content" (1 Tim 6:8). Jesus also said, "Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth" (Matt 6:19).

The next time I want to buy something for myself, I am going to ask if I really need it or if I am trying to buy something because I am bored or vain. I will also ask if what I am purchasing can benefit others. The next time I am tempted to binge watch a TV show, I will ask if I truly need this break or if I could be using this precious time God has given me for something more useful to his Kingdom.

A CRAZY DREAM

After completing my undergrad Bible studies in Africa, I left for the "Institute of Practical Ministry" certification in Dallas, TX. However, when I arrived, I noticed they also offered a graduate program (through Oklahoma Christian USA). Unfortunately, my undergrad studies were not recognized as a BA degree and so I was not allowed to start the MA program. But I had a dream of doing everything at the same time. What made this even more impossible was that I did not have the finances nor the time. But I did have the dream. When the director of the program heard what I wanted to do, he told me it was impossible. Because I was not listening, he suggested they send this crazy African back to Africa.

It was during those days that I found out the value of a big crazy dream.

Joseph was also a "dreamer." On several occasions he gets told what to do through a dream. As a result, Joseph does not divorce Mary, instead he obeys God's voice at every turn. I believe Joseph was successful in life because he not only had the big crazy dreams, but he also obeyed God without any hesitation. For instance, if your fiancé told you that she was pregnant from the Holy Spirit would you have believed her or would you have thought she was gaslighting you?

Friend you never have to fear those big crazy dreams if you obey God's will and not your wants.

ALL THE WORD

Nancy Carnes

I was watching a show on TV when the host (jokingly I hope) said if there were verses in the Bible he didn't like, he would white them out and make them disappear. How many times have you had someone quote part of a verse and use it out of context to try and prove a point? Deuteronomy 4:2 tell us, "you shall not add to the word which I am commanding you, nor take away from it that you may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you".

Some people only pay attention to the verses that say what they like and want to hear. If Jesus is the word and the word is all the verses in the Bible, aren't all the verses important for us to read? I have favorite verses I like to read over and over, especially the ones that give me comfort, but that doesn't mean I should only pay attention to those verses and ignore others. I can learn far more from all the books and verses in the Bible. Jesus is our Lord and Savior and the Word. If we only read and study the parts we like and ignore the rest, we will lose parts of Jesus.
