LEADERS NEEDED

Daryl Denham

Whatever you do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks through Him to God the Father. Colossians 3:17

Two weeks ago, in the teen class, we discussed Nehemiah. Nehemiah was one of the great leaders of the Bible. He was a layman, not a priest nor a prophet. However, he led a group of Jews to Jerusalem to rebuild the city walls and later served as Governor of Judah for twelve years.

We have many biblical examples of men who needed to be convinced to be leaders. Moses, Joshua, Gideon, Saul, and Jonah are just a few who hesitated, or resisted, a call by God to lead. However, Nehemiah saw a need and rose to lead the people to accomplish a great task.

In a time where great leaders are hard to come by, we can learn much from Nehemiah. Neil Pollard, in a recent article, suggested a number of characteristics that Nehemiah exhibited as a great leader:

Compassion (1:1-4)

A strong prayer life (1:5-11, 2:4, 4:4-9, 9:5-38)

A proven record of leadership (1:11)

Courage (2:2-3)

Ability to plan the work well (2:7-9)

Ability to communicate (2:17-18)

Positive (2:20)

No stranger to sacrifice (5:14-18)

Feared God (5:15)

Hospitable (5:17)

Avoided distraction (6:2-3)

Followed through and aimed for completion (6:15-16)

These are characteristics we can all strive to improve.

As far as we know, Nehemiah did not come from a prestigious background, or have a great education, or an extensive leadership training program. He was a servant in the King's household. When he saw a need, he was moved to action, and he rose to lead his people.

In society and in the church, we need more people like Nehemiah.

From Neville's Desk...

DOES JESUS SEE ME?

Does Jesus see me? I mean does He really see the inner person that I am? Does He know my temperament? Does He know what makes me tick? Yes, my Jesus sees! John 1:47 JESUS SAW Nathanael coming toward him and said of him, "Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no deceit!"

Does Jesus see me? I mean does He see my suffering? Does He know how long I've been struggling? Yes, my Jesus sees! John 5:6 When JESUS SAW him lying there and knew that he had already been there a long time, He said to him, "Do you want to be healed?"

A FEW NOTES ON BIBLE TRANSLATIONS

Robert Murphy

The past century has produced a plenitude of Bible translations. Many of these translations market themselves as the "best" translation available. But which translation actually is the best?

First, one must determine the goal of the translation. As noted by the ancient Christian scholar and translator Jerome, translations can be word-for-word or sense-for-sense, but not both. This is because languages of idioms, syntax, words, and style that cannot be accurately translated from one language to another. Additionally, with a distance of 2000 or more years between the biblical authors and ourselves, there are concepts completely unfamiliar to us that will not make sense when translated literally. Therefore, one must determine for herself whether a literal (word-for-word) translation best suits her needs.

Regardless of whether the translation philosophy is literal or free, all translation involves interpretation. Translation involves taking not only words, but the concepts of those words into one's mother tongue. There are places where the Greek or Hebrew are ambiguous. The translator is forced to decide on what English word best conveys the meaning of the author in a particular context. For instance, translations for Hebrews 2:10 translates the term archegos in several ways because the term could mean a variety of things. The ESV has "founder," while the NASB has "author" and the NRSV has "pioneer." All three are very different concepts in English. The first English term relates to building or establishing a structure or system, the second has to do with writing, and the third has to do with being a first explorer.

Does Jesus see me? I mean does He see my heart breaking? Does He see my tear-stained pillow? Yes, my Jesus sees! John 11:33 When JESUS SAW her weeping, and the Jews who had come with her also weeping, He was deeply moved in his spirit and greatly troubled.

Does Jesus see me? I mean does He see my vulnerability and my fears and my loneliness? Yes, my Jesus sees! John 19:26 When JESUS SAW his mother and the disciple whom He loved standing nearby, He said to his mother, "Woman, behold, your son!"

Friend, many have not returned to the assembly since COVID started. They are wondering if Jesus sees them. Why not send them a weekly text, till they return, so that they may know – Yes, my Jesus sees!

So, which is the "best" translation? All of them. Whatever translation helps you love God's word and keeps you interested in it, that is the one you should read devotionally. Every translation has its weakness and none of them are objectively perfect. Nevertheless, there are some objectively terrible "translations," such as the Passion translation that are not worth your time or money.

A final tip on translations: use multiple translations when studying the Bible. Whenever there is a disagreement among the translations, you likely need to do a word study or consult commentaries on those particular words or phrases because they are difficult to convey in the English language. When studying, I recommend starting with literal translations (e.g., NASB, KJV) and supplementing them with more "free" translations or paraphrases (e.g., the Message, NLT). This way you can have the best of both worlds.
