A DIFFERENT LEVEL OF ENERGY

Andrew Ellis

Last weekend, I attended my first-ever Major League Baseball Postseason game. While I have been to many MLB games across the country, this Postseason game stood out. I made many observations during my time at this Postseason game. Among the things, I took note of was the atmosphere. The energy prevalent among the crowd in attendance was unlike anything I have seen in person at a MLB game. In addition, there is a sense of urgency in the Postseason. There is a realization by all Postseason teams that if they do not win this time of year, their respective seasons can end without winning a championship.

Typically, you do not see this type of urgency most of the year in Major League Baseball. During a year where each team plays roughly a month's worth of Spring Training games before participating in a 162-game regular season, it can be easy not to have a sense of urgency. It can be easy to get tired along the way. There will be both good and bad days. What if every team played every game with the same urgency that exists during a Postseason game?

Life can often be like a baseball season. There are many days, both good and bad. There are days we may not be up to the challenges we face. As Christians, do we ever find ourselves like this? Do we ever get worn down by what life can throw at us? Do we ever feel the work we do is meaningless? No matter the circumstances we face, we need to remember the work we do for Christ is significant, no matter how big or small. We need to maintain a certain energy level in our lives as Christians. Paul the Apostle alludes to this idea in Galatians 6. Galatians 6:9-10 says, "And let us not grow weary of doing good, for in due season we will reap, if we do not give up. So then, as we have opportunity, let us do good to everyone, and especially to those who are of the household of faith."

While every day may not bring the most excitement, do not overlook the small things. We need to go after each day with as high of a level of energy as possible.

DISTRACTION-FREE ZONE

As Christians it is wise to secure our “undivided devotion to the Lord” (1 Co 7:35). Be aware that distraction is often what Satan uses to draw us away from our Savior.

- For Martha distraction in the kitchen led her to becoming “anxious and troubled about many things” (Lk.10:41).
- For Sampson it was being distracted from his purpose by Delilah (Jud.13-16).
- For King David distraction on the rooftop caused him to forget what he had (2 Sam.11:2).

So, how do we create a protective distraction-free bubble around us? Consider the following:

PEACE AND COMFORT

Matthew 28:6-7, 9

Nancy Carnes

We sing praises to Jesus for dying on the cross for our sins and we should never forget He died to save us, but we should also remember that He rose victorious, and He lives in our hearts today. There are so many beautiful hymns that we sing that tell of His victory over death that bring us peace and comfort when we need it most. I chose some lyrics from two songs that help me:

Because He lives I can face tomorrow, because SEEK GOD EARLY EVERY MORNING (Ps.63:1 KJV). For instance, if you cannot live without your early morning cup of coffee, let seeking Jesus take precedence.

SET YOUR PRIORITY FOR THE DAY. In Ps.63:2, after seeing God’s “power and glory” David vows to prioritize God by praising Him “with joyful lips” (Ps.63:3-5).

SUSTAIN YOUR IDENTITY IN CHRIST THROUGHOUT THE DAY. In Ps.63:8 David says his “soul clings to” God. Ask yourself, as Paul did: “Am I now trying to win the approval of human beings, or of God? Or am I trying to please people” (Gal.1:10)?

He lives all fear is gone, because He lives I know I'm free, because I know He holds the future... helps me have peace in my heart.

Also, when I sometimes feel alone and lost the following lyrics give me hope and comfort for a brighter someday: Sometimes things about tomorrow I don't understand, but I know who holds tomorrow, and I know who holds my hand.

Jesus is our Savior and also our friend who holds our hand when we have a troubled heart. Take His hand and walk with Him.
